Just
Checking

Just Checking is sensor technology that is used to understand your care and support needs at home.

The sensors look like this.

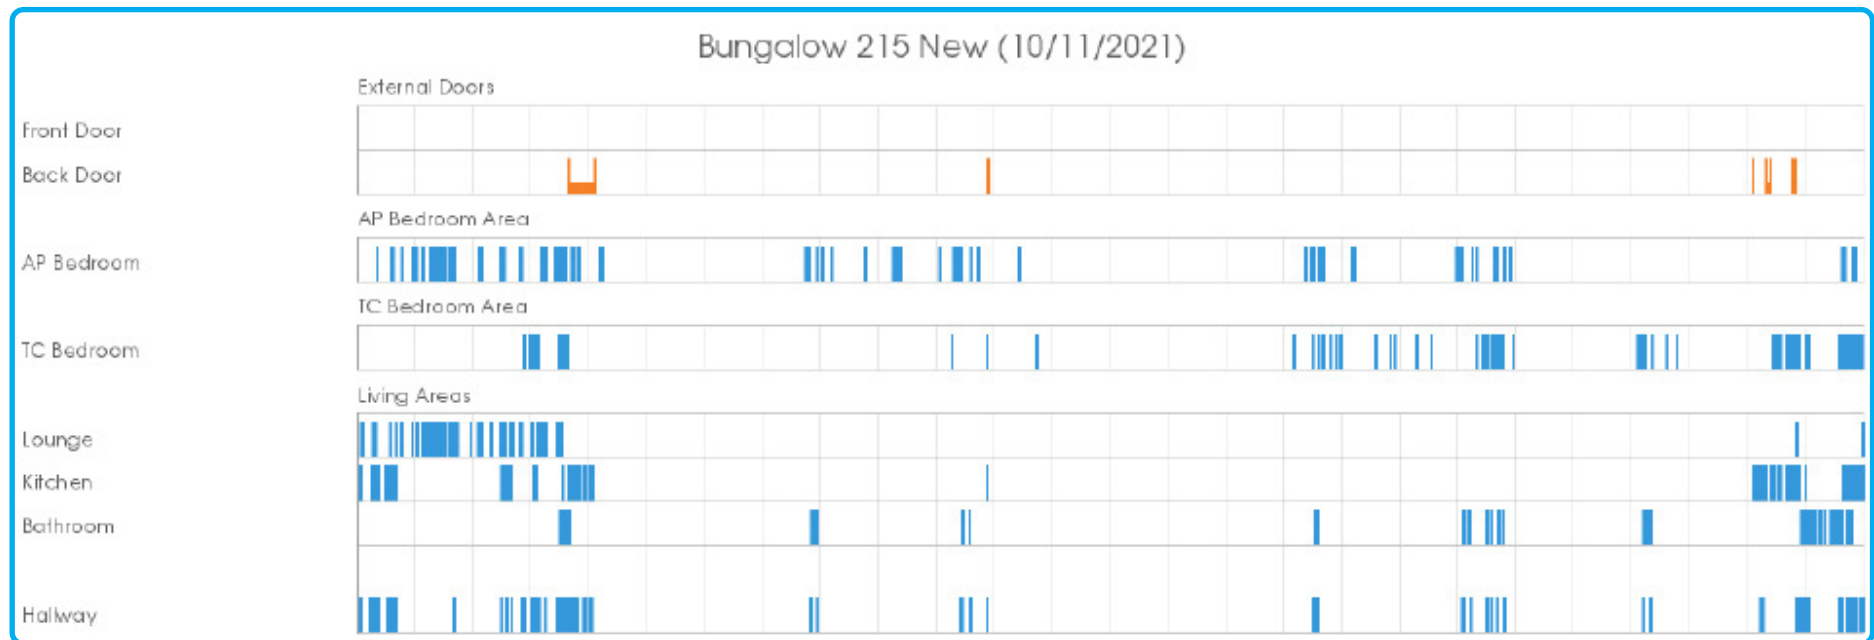

The sensors detect movement around your home. They are not cameras. They cannot see you.

The sensors will be in your home for around 2 weeks.

The sensors make a chart of activity like this. You can look at it on a website with a member of staff.

Information about activity in your home is stored in line with GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation).

Your social worker will review this information and share it with you.

If you are unsure you can tell your support worker, family or anyone else you feel comfortable talking to.

Someone who supports you will go through this information pack with you and answer any questions you have.

Talk about Just Checking and how you feel about it. If you want to, give consent to install Just Checking.
